A Parent/Student Orientation Session will be held at the beginning of the session on Monday (check the schedule for exact times). The orientation will apprise students of what will be expected of them throughout the week and reinforce some of the guidelines found in this booklet. Parents are strongly encouraged to attend this session with their children so that they will have a better understanding of what will occur during the session.

The Placement Class

The purpose of the placement classes on Monday is to allow the choreographers to observe the students they will be working with during the week. To assure individual attention, participants are divided into four Forums based on age and advancement. Refer to the Syllabus.

In the Classroom

- You MUST arrive on time for all classes, choreography sessions, and orientation sessions. Once class begins, you may not be allowed to enter.
- Sign in with the Room Monitor as soon as you arrive in the morning and immediately after lunch break. No one else may sign in for you! Arrive 15-30 minutes early each morning to sign in and warm up.
- Come to class dressed appropriately with your number pinned on the front of your shirt or leotard. Skirts may be allowed by some teachers, but no extra clothing will be allowed (i.e., t-shirts for girls, shorts, etc.) Warmers and ballet sweaters will be allowed if the room is cold. Remember to pack solid color leotards only!
- Girls must have their hair tied securely in a bun or similar hairstyle. All hair should be tied away from the face.
- No food or soft drinks may be brought into the room. Water bottles are allowed and encouraged.
- Students must participate in all aspects of every class.
- No talking is allowed during class.
- If you need to be excused from the classroom to go to the restroom, please see the Room Monitor.
- If you are feeling ill or have special needs, please see the Room Monitor.
- Always wear cover-up clothing over your dance clothes in the hotel.

Etiquette

- Show respect to your teachers by not talking in the classroom
- Yawns are a sign of disrespect. Get enough sleep!
- Enter the classroom on time and be sure to allow yourself time to stretch.
- Never question a teacher's authority in class.
- Chewing gum, eating, drinking, smoking, talking, sitting down, wandering in and out of the room, or leaning against the wall are as unacceptable during a ballet class as they would be on stage in front of an audience.

- It is important for students to remain in their assigned places or formations—at the barre, in lines in the centre, and in groups moving across the floor. In this way they do not crowd each other and can avoid accidental and potentially dangerous collisions. Keeping in line or formation is also excellent practice for the challenge of corps de ballet work.
- Students must understand that displays of temper and rudeness are self-destructive and unacceptable in the classroom.
- Show your respect for your teacher or choreographer through your applause at the end of class or rehearsal. And remember, a smile and a curtsy or a bow and a thank you always brings pleasure.

Your Choreography Sessions

- Students must attend all choreography sessions assigned to their group.
- Absolute silence and attention is required at these sessions.
- Although not all students will dance in every section, everyone should learn each section of the ballet.
- Remember that it is the choreographer's right to make changes. And it is the dancer's obligation to remember all choreography taught from session to session.
- Bring a notebook and write down directions and combinations when you have the opportunity.
- You are required to attend any extra rehearsal sessions called by the choreographer.

Students will be observed daily during their classes and rehearsals and will be selected based on attitude, etiquette, appearance, ability to work with others, proper use of time on and off the floor, ability to accept corrections and dance ability. Scholarships will be announced on Friday morning before classes begin. If the scholarship winner is unable to use the scholarship the following year, the scholarship will be awarded to the Honorable Mention honoree.

The Ballet Gala Performance

- You must notify the chair on the first day of Ballet Forum if you are not planning to perform in the Ballet Gala.
